50 years after the initial Surgeon General's report on the dangers of smoking, the list of diseases caused by smoking continues to grow and now includes diabetes mellitus.

November is National Diabetes Month and the Great American Smokeout® is on November 15th making this an ideal time to raise your patients' awareness of the comorbidity of these major health challenges and the smoking cessation support available to them.

You can help patients who are ready to quit by helping them create a plan for quitting, discussing medications to reduce cravings while they form new routines, and educating family and friends on how to support their loved one's efforts to kick the smoking habit. Patient-Centered Primary Care COLLABORATIVE

The Patient-Centered Primary Care (PCPCC) SAN is sponsoring implementation of a peer-to-peer support program for parents and other

Enhancing Person and Family Engagement with Parent-to-Parent Peer Support

A comprehensive webinar (LINK) of this program is now available. The webinar reviews the benefits of peer support for parents and caregivers. Pii practices are eligible for free support. PCPCC is working locally with Raising Special Kids to provide this support.

The program augments person and family engagement strategies by connecting caregivers to individuals who have first-hand experience in navigating the healthcare system as well as services which improve health literacy, shared decision-making and medication management.

other caregivers and how to make referrals to this free program from your office. Case managers and appropriate clinical staff are encouraged to view the webinar and coordinate with your Pii Practice Transformation Consultant (PTC) to begin the implementation process.

Kudos to All About Kids Pediatrics, Bayless Integrated Healthcare, Children's Rehabilitative Services (DMG), Healing Hearts Pediatrics, Southwest Behavioral Health and Touchstone Behavioral Health. These six practices are the first Pii providers to refer caregivers to peer support services provided by Raising Special Kids! The 12 referrals they made in the first month of this program improve patient/family activation and health literacy.

2018 Summit & Trade Show
in collaboration with Practice Innovation Institute

December 3 – 4, 2018

Each year, our attendees tell us that they gain valuable information and insight, not only from the sessions and presentations but also from other participants and users. This year, we have added another 200 participants, growing to nearly 550 organizations. Most importantly, we have seen exponential growth in the integration of HIE data into clinical workflows.

Benefits of Attending:
- Learn how other HIE participants are using the HIE to coordinate and improve care.
- Learn about the challenges and solutions in improved data sharing and quality
- Meet members of the Health Current and Pii teams along with other HIE participants

Who Should Attend?
- Healthcare Executives, Managers & Directors
- Clinical & Care Coordinators
- Technical (Health IT) Staff
- Office & Administrative Staff

Opioid Safety Webinar: Psychologically-Integrated Approaches to Pain Management

Hosted by AMA & Telligen QIN-QIO

November 14, 2018 |11:00am - 12:00pm

While pain is often viewed in a biological model, where it is in response to a specific trigger, there is a shift towards a more integrated model that includes biological, psychological and social factors. Objectives for this webinar are:

- Discuss constructs of pain disorders with a focus on the contribution of psychological phenomena on the subjective experience of pain
- Review evidence-based psychological interventions for the management of pain disorders
- Examine different models of psychologically integrated interventions utilized in healthcare systems across the country

The Opioid Safety Project Webinar Series presents new topics on the second Wednesday of each month.

Loneliness and Risk of Dementia

Journals of Gerontology, Series B

October 29, 2018

The mind-body connection is at the heart of integrated care. This study demonstrates the impact of behavioral health on patients' physical health. Participants' cognitive status was assessed at baseline and every 2 years over a 10-year period along with self-reported levels of loneliness. The follow-up assessments indicated that loneliness was associated with a 40% increased risk of dementia. The association was similar across gender, race, ethnicity, education, and genetic risk. Reducing loneliness – and possibly dementia – is another positive impact of including SDOH and BH screening in physical treatment settings.
